DETAILED ACTION

Continued Examination Under 37 CFR 1.114

1. A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after final rejection. Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, the finality of the previous Office action has been withdrawn pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Applicant's submission filed on 8/2/05 has been entered.

Double Patenting

2. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

3. Claims 1-20 are provisionally rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-20 of copending Application No. 10/035,738. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because the combinations of Claims 1 and 5 and Claims 8 and 13 are generic to the species of invention covered by claims 1 of the copending application. The combination of Claims 1 and 5 contains the steps of "establishing an electrical contact between a first member of an electrical connector and a contact that is in electrical communication with the at least one semiconductor device, and magnetically drawing the first member toward the contact". The same is true for the combination of Claims 8 and 13. The generic inventions of Claims 1 and 5 and Claims 8 and 13 are "anticipated" by the species of the copending invention. In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993).

Furthermore, the copending application contains the terms "temporary electrical contact" which is not supported by the copending application.

This is a provisional obviousness-type double patenting rejection because the conflicting claims have not in fact been patented.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

4. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

5. Claims 1-9 and 14-17 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Umbaugh (US 3,855,693).

Umbaugh discloses effecting a magnetic drawing by positioning a second member 20 of a contact 37 toward a first member 36 with a second member 14, except for effecting the magnetic drawing by positioning a second member opposite the first member toward the contact. It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to effect the magnetic drawing by positioning the second member 14 opposite 36 toward 37, since it has been held that a mere reversal of the essential working parts of a device involves only routine skill in the art. In re Einstein, 8 USPQ 167. Umbaugh discloses in Fig. 4 a plurality of chips making connections and they all inherently and obviously require power and ground contacts, as well as constant amount of current.

6. Claims 11-13 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Umbaugh (US 3,855,693) as applied to claims 1-9 and 14-17 above, and further in view of Butherus et al (US 3,612,955).

Umbaugh fails to disclose providing a second member opposite the substrate from the first member and magnetically drawing the first and second members to other first and second members.

Butherus discloses in Figs. 1B and 2 a semiconductor device 59 surrounded with ferromagnetic materials, as well as second member 45 and 46, to provide attraction both vertically and laterally (col. 3, lines 2-3).

It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to modify Umbaugh by providing a second member opposite the substrate from the first member and magnetically drawing the first and second members to other first and second members, as taught by Butherus, for the purpose of saving space for other electronic components.

7. Claims 18-20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Umbaugh (US 3,855,693) as applied to claims 1-9 and 14-17 above, and further in view of Official Notice.

Umbaugh teaches the invention as described with respect to the claims above. Umbaugh fails to disclose heating either cyclically or variously.

Official Notice is taken that it is well known in the art to provide heat during burn-in testing either cyclically or variously to purposely fail the component.

It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to modify Umbaugh by heating either cyclically or variously, as taught by Official Notice, for the purpose of purposely failing the components.

Response to Arguments

8. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1-9 and 11-20 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Conclusion

9. Please provide reference numerals (either in parentheses next to the claimed limitation or in a table format with one column listing the claimed limitation and another column listing corresponding reference numerals in the remark section of the response to the Office Action) to all the claimed limitations as well as support in the disclosure for better clarity (optional). Applicants are duly reminded that a full and proper response to this Office Action that includes any amendment to the claims and specification of the application as originally filed requires that the applicant point out the support for any amendment made to the disclosure, including the claims. See 37 CFR 1.111 and MPEP 2163.06.
